FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Monetary. WARRINGTON, Tuesday Evening, Jone 21. In the local stock market duliness reigns su-preme. The guaranteed 2-55 bonds continue to decline in the presence of a steady issue and the absence of a demand. The bonds are in good odor with large holders who are increasing their stock, and concessions are only made by persons who find it necessary to raise money by extreme measures to meet other engagements. If the market were cleared of about $500,000 the price would go up higher than ever before. Events seem to indicate that the existing stagnation will shortly be superseded by an active period. With the addition during the summer of $40,000,000 to the idle wealth of the country, investors will nat-urally inquire into the various securities in the market, and the best financial authorities of the country, in their official and unofficial opinions. 365 bonds. Gold continues to move toward New York under the temptation of high prices.
